

Associate Attorney

Work with a variety of partners at Customs and Trade groups to conduct extensive legal research and factual information gathering on foreign corporate business practices, including foreign labor law and US trade and customs regulations. Analyze and synthesize research results and present in a concise manner to the supervising attorney. Coordinate communications involving U.S. importers, foreign traders, and foreign factories to collect information in response to inquiries from U.S. governmental agencies on foreign labor conditions, trade practice, etc. Draft memo in response to clients' inquiries regarding customs and trade compliance and prepare response letters to government's inquiries and represent clients in various government and court proceedings. Salary: $150,000 - $190,000 yearly.

Requirements:

JD Degree required and two years of experience in foreign labor law registration research (do not need to be obtained as a licensed attorney) or practicing law involving foreign labor law issue required. NY State law license required.

Send resume to HR, Grunfeld Desiderio LLP d/b/a GDLSK LLP, 599 Lexington Avenue, Fl 36, New York, NY 10022